

Welcome to the index for Invicta, the magazine of the South Eastern and Chatham Railway Society.

Invicta has been published and distributed to members of the Society since 1974 and contains much information about the South Eastern & Chatham Railway and its constituent companies the London Chatham & Dover Railway and the South Eastern Railway.

Visitors can browse the index, which is arranged in chronological order of publication, or alternatively it can be searched using key words.

To search the index, click EDIT in your web browser tool bar. In the dropdown menu click FIND, a small screen will appear. Enter your search word in the box. This can be a person or station name, a type of locomotive or rolling stock, accidents, signals, etc., and then press ENTER on your keyboard. The screen will move to the first match to your keyword, highlighting it with blue arrows. Click NEXT to move on and PREVIOUS to go back. When you have moved forward through all the matches, or if no match is found, a message "Acrobat has finished searching the document. The find item was not found", will appear. Click OK and the program will return to the Find screen.
